STERN COLLEGE F YESHIVA UNIV

A close-up photograph of a page from an ancient manuscript. The page is filled with dense, handwritten text in a dark ink, arranged in two columns. The paper is aged and yellowed, with some visible wear and tear. A large, ornate initial letter 'D' is prominent at the top left of the left column. The handwriting is a cursive script, likely from the Middle Ages. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but clearly old document.

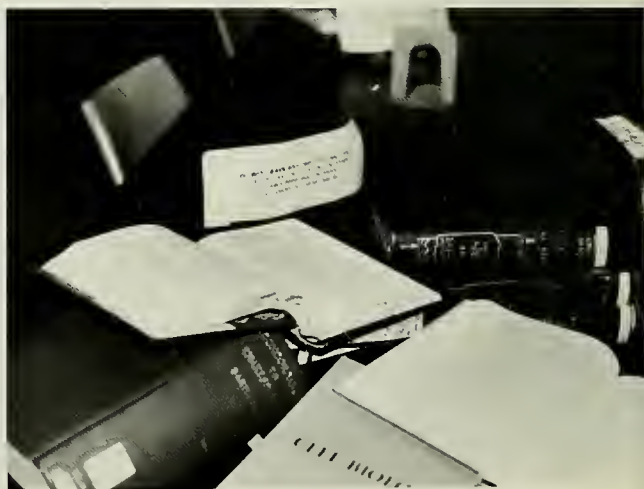

STERN COLLEGE FOR WOMEN - YESHIVA UNIVERSITY

YESHIVA UNIVERSITY

500 WEST 185TH STREET
NEW YORK, N.Y. 10033

To Our New Stern Alumnae:

I offer you my warmest Mazal Tov greetings as you conclude your studies at Stern College for Women, and enter the initial phases of "Life after Stern."

You are fortunate to have been at Stern during a period of academic growth and intellectual excitement. The improvements at Stern during the past three or four years are by now sufficiently well known and well documented to require no further elaboration. But it is good to celebrate creative achievements, and so to inspire each other towards even greater accomplishments in the future.

May your "life after Stern" be one in which the Torah and the Mada which you have learned here at Stern will succeed in transforming your own personal lives, in forming your careers, and enhancing your homes and families.

You will always be cherished by us—your alma mater, the faculties, the administration—and you will always be welcome to come back "home" to visit, reminisce, advise, and help.

May Hashem be with you in all your undertakings!

Cordially yours,

These days, attending a college has become essentially commonplace and without great significance. A typical student might transfer from school to school without developing roots or educational coherence.

This description does not fit the Stern College woman. More often than not, your having chosen this college represents the logical next step in a clear educational plan—to study in depth the precious heritage of the Jewish people and to build bridges between that heritage and Western civilization. This is a tall order and really requires much more than four years of study. For precisely this reason our curricula have placed enormous emphasis on the development of skills needed for a life-time of learning.

The Class of 1984 takes with it the respect and friendship of the entire Stern College community. We trust that in the years ahead, as you build families, develop careers, and exercise community leadership, you will look back warmly on your experience here.

On behalf of the faculty and staff I wish you great success. May you go from strength to strength in all your undertakings.

Karen Bacon

YESHIVA UNIVERSITY

245 Lexington Avenue / New York, N.Y. 10016 / (212) 481-0587

Dear Graduates,

When you entered Stern College a fleeting few years ago, I had the opportunity to address you at an Orientation session and to share with you the goals which the Jewish Studies faculty desired to help you achieve during your stay at Stern College. It is my sincere hope that you achieved much of that growth, both in the area of the expansion and deepening of your Jewish knowledge and in the area of your religious and spiritual development.

Now upon your departure from the sacred halls of this vibrant Torah institution, I appreciate the opportunity to wish you well in your future endeavors and to share with you some thoughts about the many years, please God, which lie before you.

Continued religious growth will not just happen by itself; it will take concerted effort on your part. As life gets ever busier as you establish yourselves in your families and your careers, try to integrate the following suggestions into your lives:

- 1. Set aside daily time for the study of Torah. The skills and knowledge which you have achieved will atrophy if they are not used and further developed. Even fifteen minutes of daily study, privately or with a chavrusa, will enrich your existence.*
- 2. At least once every week, perhaps during Shabbat, do a Cheshbon Ha-Nefesh. Pay particular attention to your ethical condition and the integrity of the relationships which you have established with other people.*
- 3. Seek out ways to serve the community within which you live. As Jews we cannot live in isolation from the community, and the strength of a community is dependent upon the voluntary efforts of its members.*

In all you do, strive to achieve that critical Divine command, "Kedoshim Ti'hiyu". May God be with you.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Saul J. Berman

*Rabbi Saul J. Berman
Chairman, Dep't of Jewish Studies*

MENACHEM BEGIN

We, the Senior Class of 1984, dedicate Kochaviah '84 to Menachem Begin, a leader of our time. As he completes his duties, so too, we reach the close of an era in our lives. Every individual has the innate potential to accomplish great things. Mr. Begin represents that potential within us all.

During his youth, the Jewish State was merely an abstract concept. Mr. Begin eventually helped turn this ideal into a reality. As Prime Minister of Israel, he strove to achieve what was previously unattainable, peace with Egypt.

His devotion manifested itself not only politically, but religiously as well. Mr. Begin would not compromise his religious conviction under any circumstances. While examined with much scrutiny, he carried out his beliefs and always kept his goals in sight. His courage and vigor were always kept intact by his wife, Aliza. A pillar of strength, Aliza helped her husband to be optimistic and vibrant through most turbulent times.

Menachem Begin represents our past and is an inspiration to our future. His fervent commitment will always encourage our unyielding strength, our belief in Eretz Yisrael.

November 21, 1983

The Honorable Menahem Begin

Dear Sir:

May we first extend to you the greetings and the salutations of the graduating class of Stern College For Women of Yeshiva University.

As Literary Editors of the Stern College Yearbook of 1984, may we introduce the sentiments of the graduating seniors to you. The students of Stern College 1984 are fully committed to the lofty ideals of traditional Judaism. They have been imbued with an Ahavat Yisrael, with a love for the State of Israel and the People of Israel. Many of us have spent a year of study in various institutions of higher learning in Israel.

We are fully cognizant and appreciative of the caliber and vitality of your leadership. As Prime Minister, conducting the affairs of Israel through most turbulent times, you inspired both the people in Israel as well as Jews throughout the world with a zeal, enthusiasm, pride and spirit of religious conviction.

Our graduating class has, therefore, unanimously decided to say Thank you to you, Honorable Sir, and to dedicate our yearbook to you and all that you represent.

It would be most appreciated if you would acknowledge this intention of ours with a greeting that we may include in our publication.

We pray for your welfare and for your good health. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Respectfully yours,

Tova Reiner

דואר חמי

Dear Friends,

Menachem Begin was pleased to receive your letter of November 21, and he has asked me to thank you for the warm sentiments that you conveyed.

He of course recognizes the role of the Yeshiva University, and the importance of its educational facilities.

He was touched by your decision to dedicate your yearbook to him.

Mr. Begin's vision of the future was expressed in the Rosh Hashanah Message he addressed to the Jewish people several months ago:

"Let us now apply ourselves to the tasks of strengthening our people that resides in the Land. We must strive for greater unity of purpose within the diversity of opinion in our democratic society. Let us combine all our forces into one strong nation - veterans and newcomers, Sephardim and Ashkenazim, city dwellers and the farming community, religious or non-observant. We are all part of this great ancient and renewed House of Israel.

"And our brethren in the free world should know that the greatest contribution they can make to the Israel they love is to come here and share in its development and its upbuilding.

"Strengthened in numbers, in spirit and in resolve we shall ensure that our beloved Eretz Israel will endure, will flourish and will shine for all generations to come."

We wish you success with your publication and your future endeavours.

Sincerely,

Z.H. Hurwitz

Adviser to the Prime Minister

CHANUKAH CHAGIGA

Chanukah, the festival of lights, kindles a flame in all of us. Amidst a time of persecution of our people and destruction of our temple, a miracle of light occurs. Although we have an obligation to remember this period of disruption, we must also celebrate our spiritual victory. At our annual Stern Chagiga, we commemorated this miracle of light.

Throughout the Torah, one sees numerous references to an indestructible bond between the Jewish People and their land. At the beginning of Bere-shit, Avraham is told to leave the place of his birth, the home of his family and to go to Israel where he will prosper and multiply. Ever since, the importance of the Jews dwelling in Eretz Yisrael becomes increasingly significant. Wherever the Jews have wandered, in the past, they have been persecuted. Yet, even during the worst of times, they dreamed of the redemption of Israel and of the return to their land. This aspiration and dream gave them the strength to overcome all difficulties and to survive every threat.

Today, Israel is not in a state of complete cohesion. There are conflicts between those who are on opposite ends of the political spectrum and between religious and irreligious factions. However, one must understand that rooted in all of these conflicts is a common ideology and goal—the preservation of Israel as an existing home for Jewry. Although their means and actions are in a state of discord, their end hinges on the same concept of a homeland for our people.

The uniqueness of the students at Stern College is that each is imbued with a sense of identification with the Jewish peoplehood and nationhood. Our education is fused with a strong tie to the land of Israel and a developing empathy for our people. While placing emphasis on our love and regard for Israel and its existing problems, we are also constantly concerned with other detrimental social developments such as the suffering of Russian Jewry and Anti-Semitism in general. Not only do we deplore these hardships but also take measures against them in forms of petitions, rallies, demonstrations and charities. The Ahavat Yisrael of our Stern students is continually strengthened with our religious education.

Upon leaving Stern College, we are all going our separate ways in terms of locations, aspirations, and careers. Although we may be distant from one another, even geographically, we are unified by one idea: our love for Israel and for our people. No matter what our destinies might be, we all carry within us an Ahavat Yisrael that will always remain strong. We will, therefore, endure whatever is in store for us and will achieve the ultimate redemption to our homeland, Eretz Yisrael.

CHECK LIST: WHAT TO BRING TO STERN COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

NEW YORKERS:—Mom's home cooked meals for the week (ending thursday night when they return home for Shabbat till Monday morning).
